Commodore's Corner

A nice lady donated several wet suits and kayaking jackets and pants of various sizes. They are now in the Lost and Found bin in the clubhouse and they are all in like-new condition. You are welcome to take whatever is there, first come first served.

JULY 4TH HOLIDAY SAIL

Meet at sail house at 10:30 a.m.

Sail to Crabby Dick's for lunch.

(Always check the weather first!)

Please RSVP to vcmdrncsc@gmail.com

so I can let Crabby Dick's know how many people to expect.

If you would prefer to drive there instead of sail, just let me know.

Thanks,
Barbara Cooper
Vice Commodore

On the Water in June

Thanks to the following for their photos in this issue:

Racing

We have had an unfortunate weather pattern this year with very light winds on Saturday mornings. This past week was no exception so we moved our Flying Scot Race & Make-Up Separation Day Regatta to the afternoon.

Thanks to our Race Committee of Dave Koppeser and Patti Parziale for their flexibility. We only had enough wind to race the Thistles but we were able to get the Separation Day Regatta sailed just a day after the actual Separation Day. We had six boats on the starting line and were able to get in four races in the variable afternoon winds. Results are posted on the Racing Page of the NCSC website.

Despite the weather, we have managed to get in a number of other race days this season. A link to the Race Results for the first half of the Spring Series is on the Racing Page of the NCSC website. We also had a nice mix of experienced skippers and new racers come out for our race practice day on June 2nd. Six Thistles were out and we were able to get in some good practice time including practice on starts, mark roundings and downwind sailing with the spinnaker.

Going forward, when the weather forecast indicates that racing will not be possible due to the weather, I will continue to postpone or cancel the Saturday race with a Friday evening email notice. If the weather looks iffy for sailing, make sure to check your email before leaving for a Saturday race. If you see no email, the race is on. Let's hope for more wind on Saturday mornings.

The Spring Series resumes next Saturday, June 23rd. This might be a good time to check on the Series award qualification participation requirements posted on the Racing Page of the NCSC website. I hope to see as many NCSC members as possible at an upcoming race. Everyone is welcome and encouraged to participate.

Racing Director
